SEPTEMBER MEETING NOTICE

- DATE: Tuesday, September 10th, 2013
- SPEAKER: Jack Keays, M.Sc., P.Eng., Project Engineer
Sereca Fire Consulting
- TOPIC: Fire Loss Statistical Considerations in Relating Failure and Building Damage to Building Code Objectives
The current framework for the collection of fire loss statistics includes a substantial amount of information; however, the information that specifically relates back to the building design criteria does not directly correlate with the principles upon which building codes are based. This presentation looks at the current framework for the collection of fire loss statistics and outlines a framework for the collection of fire loss statistics that can better align with the fundamental fire safety principles within the Canadian building code system.
Jack Keays holds a Master of Science degree in Fire Safety Engineering and has been focusing on the fire protection industry for over six years. Drawing on his educational, design, inspection and investigation experience Jack is skilled in the assessment of failures, risk assessments and code requirements.
